TORLAKSON OR TUCK?

On Thursday, October 9, 2014, the AALA PAC Steering Committee will recommend to the Representative Assembly whom to endorse for State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Both of the candidates, incumbent Tom Torlakson and his challenger, Marshall Tuck, have been interviewed by the PAC Steering Committee. The Rep Assembly vote will authorize AALA to endorse and financially support its selection. Torlakson and Tuck come from very different backgrounds, have differing views on the condition of K-12 education in California and different plans for educational improvement.

While Torlakson has cited real progress during his tenure that led to improved funding for schools, new academic standards and higher graduation rates, Tuck, a strong supporter of the education reform agenda, alleges that academic progress has been relatively stagnant for 20 years with more than 2 million students not reading at grade level. He casts himself as an outsider, willing to challenge the status quo of Sacramento insiders, politicians and business as usual.

Tom Torlakson is a former high school and community college teacher and coach who served in both the California Assembly and Senate prior to being elected to his current position as State Superintendent of Public Instruction in 2011. He is a graduate of UC Berkeley, and has received endorsements from myriad educational groups, such as CTA, CFT and CABE, as well as superintendents and members of school boards around the state, law enforcement agencies and politicians. LA Mayor Eric Garcetti has also endorsed him. While the position itself is nonpartisan, Torlakson has long been affiliated with the Democratic Party and has received its endorsement, as well. His website, www.tomtorlakson.com, cites that he wrote legislation that led to the development of the largest system of after-school programs in the nation and that he stopped budget cuts to California's schools and put decision-making back in the hands of the local school community. He worked hard for the passage of Proposition 30 that provided new resources to schools and colleges after seven years of devastating reductions in funding and also authored the Quality Education and Improvement Act (QEIA) in 2006.

Marshall Tuck has a Harvard University MBA and spent a year teaching and doing service work in Thailand and Zimbabwe before becoming an executive at a software company in the Bay Area. His education administrative experience has been as CFO and President of Green Dot Public Schools, helping it expand from one to ten charter high schools in Los Angeles. He left Green Dot to become founding CEO of the Partnership for Los Angeles Schools, established by former Los Angeles Mayor Antonio Villaraigosa, which operates 17 schools in LAUSD. His website, www.marshalltuck.com, says that while CEO, the partnership schools increased their graduation rates by over 60%, improved attendance and launched a parent involvement program that has become a national model. endorsements from the San Francisco Chronicle, LA Times, LA Daily News, La Opinion, Sacramento Bee, Students First and substantial funding from the California Charter Schools Association, major technology companies, former New York Mayor Michael Bloomberg and Eli Broad. Tuck proposes to eliminate sections of the Education Code so principals have more power, reallocate dollars to schools and raise education spending at least to the national average.

In a recent debate between Torlakson and Tuck in Burlingame, the two candidates stressed their differences. Tuck blasted Torlakson for appealing the ruling in the Vergara v. the State of California case that overturned current tenure and layoff laws, saying, “[those laws] have led us to a situation where we can’t have an effective teacher in the classroom.” Torlakson countered that he helped pass a law that makes it easier to fire ineffective teachers and said that the Vergara case is blaming teachers for the problems facing schools over which they have no control.

Torlakson says he brought $1.25 billion in additional funding to districts to implement Common Core and $500 million for new career and college readiness programs. Both candidates agreed that schools need more money to repair and upgrade their facilities and both support the Common Core State Standards; however, they disagreed on how prepared California actually is for CCSS.

Tuck perceives that CTA, which has been highly critical of him, has too much influence but says he has no major policy differences with them. Torlakson stresses, “Sometimes I’ll agree with the union and sometimes I won’t, but I’ll always agree with the kids and always agree with teachers on the front line.” And he takes every opportunity to emphasize that he has had actual classroom experiences that Tuck cannot claim and has always been a staunch supporter of administrators.

Look for AALA’s endorsement in the next issue of Update.

A RECIPE FOR DISASTER

It is no secret that Jefferson High School has become the poster child for how not to start a school year. MiSiS, administrative changes, an eight-period day, mismanagement from District leadership, lack of a master program all sent the school spinning out of control to such an extent that the students staged a protest. Jefferson (along with Fremont HS, both reconstituted schools) has now been added to a lawsuit filed last spring by the ACLU and Public Counsel over lack of quality learning time AND Superintendent Deasy sent a letter in support of the case. Dr. Deasy, via his involvement in the suit, is asking the State to intervene and prohibit students from being enrolled in nonacademic classes such as service or home periods, which he calls indefensible. Below is the chronology of events at Jefferson High School.

- As of June 30, 2014, the school loses both its principal and APSCS.
- A retired elementary principal is assigned as interim principal, as well as an instructional specialist with no PPS credential; neither of whom is experienced in high school block scheduling.
- MiSiS is mandated to begin July 1; school does not have appropriate browser in place, making it nonfunctioning. The master program is not complete. A new APSCS is assigned on July 1, but not allowed to come to work prior to July 28.

RECIPE (Cont.)

- School starts on August 12. The school operates with a block schedule in an eight-period day. Teachers only teach 75% of the day.
- Due to MiSiS and the problematic master schedule, students arrive at school and have incomplete programs. Hundreds spend two weeks in the auditorium waiting for classes.
- Attendance cannot be taken because of MiSiS, so enrollment figures are unknown.
- The newly assigned APSCS is transferred after two weeks, on August 14, and replaced by a new Instructional Specialist.
- The permanent principal is assigned on August 19.
- Students stage a protest on August 25, complaining about scheduling problems and the lack of appropriate classes.
- ISIC and ITD send in staff members to provide support to the school.
- Jefferson students join an ongoing lawsuit (Cruz v. State of California) that claims they are losing instructional time because they have empty class periods, are assigned to classes they have already taken or are missing core requirements.
- Superintendent Deasy lends his support to the same lawsuit criticizing his own District's policy which allows students to take service or home period classes that have no content.
- Dr. Deasy is scheduled to leave on October 9 or 10 for a two-week trip to Korea.
- The LAUSD Board of Education will discuss the situation at Jefferson HS at its meeting on October 18.

On Wednesday, October 8, 2014, the judge in the Cruz case, George Hernandez, Jr., issued a temporary restraining order that mandates that the State of California, State Board of Education, State Superintendent of Public Instruction immediately have a meeting with Superintendent Deasy to identify each Jefferson student who is inappropriately scheduled, enroll those students in courses that are substantive, instructional [and] appropriate, establish a plan to make up the lost instructional time due to incorrect or missing classes and ensure that there are adequate resources (including teachers) to implement the plan. He ordered that such a meeting occur by October 14 and that an update be provided the court by October 16.

AALA members have to wonder, who is running this operation? Poor administrative decisions at the local ESC level, coupled with the inefficient MiSiS system, left this school floundering amid chaos and confusion at the beginning of the school year. But two months into the school year, students still have scheduling issues. Superintendent Deasy has the authority to waive some guidelines to provide stability to a school. Why did he let it struggle for so long? And, an even more compelling question—why is the Superintendent supporting a lawsuit to end a policy over which he has authority? Why the need to take a public position against the organization in which he is the leader? How bad is it when the court has to tell a school district to provide appropriate classes for its students? As of press time, we are unaware whether Dr. Deasy is still headed for Korea, but if he is, we have can only shake our heads.

With the Board challenging the Superintendent and the Superintendent asking the State to intervene into his policy decisions, a judge issuing a restraining order against the District, the teachers threatening a strike, bungled technology initiatives (iPads and MiSiS) and student protests, the LAUSD continues to take center stage in the national arena—and definitely not in a positive light.

HEALTH BENEFITS FAQ

TOPIC: MEDICARE-RELATED MAIL

The District sent me a letter on Creditable Coverage. What is this about?

All Medicare-eligible retirees receive this notification in early October of each year because the open enrollment period for Medicare Part D prescription coverage is between October 15 and December 7. LAUSD-provided drug coverage exceeds the coverage provided under Medicare Part D plans as there is no coverage gap, referred to as the Donut Hole. According to Medicare, if your existing coverage is creditable coverage, you can keep this coverage and not pay a higher premium (a penalty) if you later decide to join a Medicare drug plan.

Why should I keep the letter of Creditable Coverage?

If Medicare retirees or their Medicare-eligible dependent lose their District health benefits or decide to enroll in Part D, then they will need to show creditable coverage to avoid Medicare penalties. This letter provides the documentation needed.

I am getting a lot of mail from advertisers about Medi-Gap Plans and Part D prescription plans. Do I need to pay attention to these?

No. It's also open enrollment for Medicare and other Medicare-related plans. You'll be getting a lot of mail from advertisers. You can discard these, but open any mail from the District's Benefits Administration.

Why will the District terminate my benefits if I apply for Medicare Part D prescription coverage?

The LAUSD retiree medical plans work with Medicare Part D and receive incentives to offer high-quality prescription coverage. The District receives a Retiree Drug Subsidy (RDS) to continue providing drug coverage that is as affordable as, or better than, Medicare's prescription coverage. The subsidy saves taxpayer dollars because retirees do not enroll in Part D. Per Medicare and District guidelines, the consequence of a retiree and or his/her Medicare-eligible dependents who enroll in Part D is the loss/cancellation of their District-paid medical and drug coverage.

What if I made a mistake and enrolled in Medicare Part D?

If you erroneously enrolled in Part D, you may drop Part D coverage during the Medicare Open Enrollment period which begins October 15, 2014, and ends December 7, 2014.

Why must Medicare retirees in Medicare Advantage plans pay an income-based premium for Part D?

Even though LAUSD retirees do not enroll in Medicare Part D, Part D prescription coverage is included in Medicare Advantage Plans—Kaiser Senior Advantage, Health Net Seniority Plus, UnitedHealthcare® Group. Retirees with modified adjusted gross income levels above $85,000 are billed a monthly premium adjustment for Part D from the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS). Retirees must pay the billed amount, despite not having enrolled in Part D. Failure to pay the income-based Medicare Part D premium included in your Medicare invoice will result in the loss of Medicare D benefits if you are enrolled in Kaiser Senior Advantage, UnitedHealthcare or Health Net and cancellation of District-paid medical and drug coverage under those plans, as mandated by federal law. Medicare retirees in the Anthem Blue Cross EPO plan are not subject to the premium adjustment.

Where can I get additional information on Creditable Coverage?

Visit the CMS website at: www.cms.gov/CreditableCoverage.

THE MISIS CRISIS CONTINUES

In case anyone is laboring under the mistaken belief that the problems with MiSiS are being resolved, we are publishing (with permission) a letter sent to ITD from a coordinator at a secondary school and one from another coordinator in response to the first letter. The problems identified have the potential to cause the District to lose Title I funding, disrupt student services and interfere with the graduation and college application processes.

LETTER 1

We are trying to figure out which students have not turned in lunch applications. However, when I use MiSiS Explorer to generate a list of students, I get about 300 students that are listed twice with different lunch application codes. We are even more confused when we compare this with the results of the Meal Program Roster report. This impacts 10's of thousands of dollars for funding for schools. Why conflicting information?

We tested seniors Tuesday and Wednesday on the CAHSEE. This matters whether these kids graduate from high school. Tuesday you sent out an email telling us not to trust MiSiS explorer to identify kids and giving us a new link. You referred to the test next week. The test is now over. Unfortunately, students were already taking the test according to the state mandated calendar. All of the time you spent was wasted. Hopefully not too many seniors will not graduate from high school due to your error.

Do you understand that while you correct bugs that have insignificant effect at school sites, software that doesn't work is harming real students? Why do items that matter at schools seem to have the lowest priority to be fixed or are considered "enhancements"?

Continuing problems include:

- Athletics applications don't work.
- Secondary missing marks reports don't work.
- Report cards & verification rosters won't run for an entire school.
- Non-mailer version of report cards not available.
- Students continue to appear and disappear at random.
- Classes on student schedules continue to appear and disappear at random.
- Students who have been dropped reappear on rosters.
- Inaccurate parent information persists.
- MiSiS explorer has inaccurate & missing information.

LETTER 2

Because grade and attendance reports are not working or not working correctly, we have no easy system to find attendance or grade problem students. This means no or delayed interventions and services to students. Are there paper and pencil methods to find them? Sure. But staff is less likely to find all of them, in time, to make a difference.

Inaccurate transcripts have been sent to colleges. I wonder what colleges think of LAUSD now. I wonder if any of those students will have problems getting accepted.

I pointed out in summer of 2013 that the athletic reports were to be school wide reports and will benefit many types of groups (SLC, grade level, counselor, RSP, SDC, user created groups, etc.), not just athletics. Could the grade and attendance reports under athletics solve some of the problems like above? Of course. I pointed out that the reports didn't work at the 5 week, and here we are at the 10 week and still no working report.

Who is going to help school sites help our students by getting these reports up and running? Can we get some movement on school site issues too? These are problems with direct student services.
